PAYNE IS RELEASED ON
HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Game Warden of Fairfax County, Va., Granted Freedom in Corporation Court of Alexandria.

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 4.—It took a writ of habeas corpus to give A. J. Payne, game warden of Fairfax County, his freedom after being detained at police headquarters here since late yesterday afternoon. Payne's freedom was secured at noon today when his attorney, Judge J. K. M. Norton, used out the writ before Judge J. C. Barley, of the Corporation Court of this city, who held that the warrant and commitment on which Payne was held was illegal. Payne is once more looking after violators of the game laws of Fairfax County.

Payne's troubles started Saturday, when he was taken in custody in this city at the instance of the Fairfax County authorities on a warrant charging him with illegally removing cordwood in that county. He then gave a bond for his appearance Monday night before Justice Trott in that county. He appeared for trial and was held for the action of the grand jury. Payne next went home to get bonds and came to Alexandria yesterday morning to arrange for his bond. He had been here but a few hours when once more he was taken in custody at the instance of the Fairfax authorities, and was held until the writ of habeas corpus was obtained.

MARYLAND LIVE STOCK PUT UNDER QUARANTINE

One Case of Foot and Mouth Disease Found in Hagerstown—New York Also Added to List.

New York and Maryland yesterday were added to the list of States from which shipments of live stock are prohibited because of the existence of foot and mouth disease within their borders. Cases of the disease have been found in Buffalo stockyards, and one case at Hagerstown, Md. In addition, reports from the Chicago stockyards indicate that some 600 animals there are infected. The list of States now quarantined by Federal authorities includes New York, Maryland, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, and Pennsylvania. In addition to these, restrictions have been placed upon interstate shipments from Ohio, although no cases as yet have been found in that State. There is reason to fear, however, that infected stock may have been sent into Ohio. If this is found not to have been the case the embargo will be lifted. This outbreak, which is the first in the United States since 1903, is regarded as the most serious of any that the United States has yet experienced. Vigorous measures will be necessary to stamp it out. The cost of suppressing the last outbreak in 1903 was estimated at $250,000. In addition the loss to dairy and stock raisers was heavy.
